Keiro is a mission-driven organization engaged in improving the quality of life for older adults and their caregivers in the Japanese American and Japanese community of Los Angeles, Orange, and Ventura counties. Keiro delivers a wide range of resources to address the challenges and barriers that aging presents: isolation, limited financial resources, complex health conditions, and cognitive and memory disabilities. Keiro also partners with companies and organizations that can expand its services and ability to reach seniors and caregivers, and participates in research and innovative work where Keiro can contribute to advancing progress in resolving the challenges of aging.

Keiro Conference:
AGING INTO TOMORROW
An innovative approach to the aging process

Saturday, October 13, 2018
The Westin Long Beach
333 E. Ocean Blvd.
Long Beach, CA 90802
The concept of innovation often conjures fantastical images of futuristic electronic devices and flying cars, but innovation occurs beyond the scope of technology.

With advances in modern medicine and significant societal shifts, how we age has evolved over the last couple of decades. Yet one constant remains: we all still age. As Keiro evaluates both the traditional and modern challenges presented with aging, we are continually seeking out innovative approaches and solutions.

Keiro is proud to present its annual conference, Aging into Tomorrow. This one-day gathering for baby boomers, academics, caregivers, and older adults alike, highlights an innovative approach to aging and the ways we can use forward-thinking to plan for our futures today.

KEYNOTE PRESENTATIONS:

The Science Behind Social Connection in Older Age

SPEAKER: Carla Perissinotto, MD, MHS, Associate Professor, Associate Chief of Clinical Programs in Geriatrics, University of California, San Francisco

The session will cover current evidence for the health effects of loneliness and social isolation. This session will also provide an overview of the definitions of loneliness, isolation, and social connection and discuss how they are measured while providing practical ideas on how to address this growing healthcare issue.

Let it Go for Good

SPEAKER: Peter Walsh

Peter Walsh has helped millions of people across the world feel the joy that comes with living with fewer things. His approach is to first help people understand that their possessions have tremendous power, but that for many people, that power ends up hurting their own and their family's overall wellbeing. Peter offers many ways to think about the clutter that's filling up your home and how to deal with it in a smart, respectful way.
